Mr. Cleveland Writes on Possibilities

AT THE CHICAGO CONVENTION

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., April 11.—James H. Bible today received a letter from Grover Cleveland in which he says that he is exceedingly anxious to have the party do exactly the right thing at the Chicago convention, and hopes that delegates will be guided by judgment and actuated by the true Democratic spirit and a single desire to succeed on principle.

"I should not be frank," writes Mr. Cleveland, "if I did not say that I often fear I do not deserve the kind things that such friends as you say of me, and I have frequent misgivings as to the wisdom of again putting me in nomination. I am, therefore, anxious that this sentimental and unmeasured personal devotion should be checked when delegates to the convention reach the period of deliberation. In any event, there will be no disappointment to me in the result."

Tremendous Floods.

MOBILE, April 11.—The Tombigbee river, not since 1847, has had so sudden and great floods as at present. Farmers on the river were wholly unprepared and from Columbus, Miss., to Fulton the loss of hogs, cattle, mules and cotton seed is unprecedented. Much farming is swept away and people rendered destitute. A great deal of corn and cotton is under water. About eighteen feet additional rise is expected.

Juch in Decided Hard Luck.

SACRAMENTO, April 11.—At midnight tonight the Emma Juch opera company was still in the cars at the depot, manager Locke having failed to raise the amount necessary to transport the company to Tacoma. The members today said they had no complaint against Locke; that they had money of their own and plenty to eat and drink.

STOCKTON, April 11.—The preliminary survey at this end of the California Midland railroad from Stockton to Visalia will be commenced on Wednesday.

A corps of ten surveyors, under Emery Oliver of Portland, Or., will start from here equipped for several months' work in the field.

Oliver has been here since Saturday purchasing teams and supplies. He says the surveyors will arrive tomorrow evening.

The line will be run west of the Southern Pacific as far as Modesto and may not cross that road until Merced is reached. It is expected that three months will be spent in making the survey.

A Healthy Find.

PHŒNIX, A.T., April 11.—A special to the Republican from Nogales announces the finding of a 14½-pound nugget in Plancha's placers, Sonora, Mexico. This is said to be the largest nugget of gold on record. The percentage of pure gold is 89 fine. Plancha's placers are worked spasmodically by Mexicans and Indians owing to the scarcity of water a greater part of the year.

Merced's New Marshal.

MERCED, April 11.—The city election held under the new election law was a success, 475 votes being polled. There were only nine illegal ballots. The fight of election centered on marshal. There were three candidates, but Carrigan won by a large majority.

Slowly Climbing.

WASHINGTON, April 11.—The treasury department today purchased 200,000 ounces of silver at .8725@.8730.

WILL DEMAND WORK.

UNEMPLOYED WORKINGMEN IN LONDON

Will Have Work or Dire Consequences Will Very Soon Result.

LONDON, April 11.—In addressing a meeting of unemployed workmen today John Moore Packer promised to inaugurate an agitation that would surpass that of Trafalgar square, unless speedy relief was afforded, and thousands of men would rise up and demand work. Another speaker trusted that before the end of the month such large demonstrations would be held as would oblige the authorities of open relief works for the unemployed.

A new, quick and positive cure for all kinds of malarial fevers and private diseases at the Golden Rule Drug Store, through a doctor of twenty-five years experience in Europe and America. In this store you can get all kinds of drugs and patent medicines, cheaper than anywhere else in the city. Prescriptions and family receipes a specialty. Trustees Will Meet.

CHICO, April 11.—A joint meeting of boards of the state normal trustees will be held in this city tomorrow. Governor Markham arrived on the local train this evening, and Principal Childs and four trustees from San Jose and three or four from Los Angeles are also expected to be present at the session.

No Californians There.

BOSTON, April 11.—The Congregational ministers of Boston and vicinity today adopted a resolution emphatically condemning the Chinese exclusion act and requesting Massachusetts senators to use all lawful means to prevent its adoption by the senate.

IN A FOREIGN DOCK.

WASHINGTON, April 11.—The navy department is informed that the United States ship Mohican has gone to Esquimault, B. C., to be docked in the British navy yards for necessary repairs, occasioned by running on a rock and losing about ten feet of false keel.

The secretary of the navy today received a telegram from Tacoma merchants protesting against the Mohican's going to an English dry dock when she might have been repaired just as well at Tacoma.

The secretary says he was not aware that the Tacoma dry dock was finished or was capable of receiving a vessel the size of the Mohican, and as the Mohican was enroute to the Behring sea it was easier to have her repaired at Esquimault than to take her back to San Francisco.

Tacoma—Numerous telegrams were sent from here today by the chamber of commerce, the Commercial club and citizens to the President, secretary of the navy and several congressmen, protesting against the order of the navy department in sending the United States ship Mohican to a Canadian dry dock for repairs, when there is a dry dock in this city able, it is claimed, to accommodate the vessel.

A Monster in Steel.

CHICAGO, April 11.—The largest arch ever constructed for any building, that of the manufacturers building at the world's fair grounds, was completed this evening. The immense steel span has a height of 212 feet and a width at the base of 375.

Another Sun Yarn.

WASHINGTON, April 11. — Secretary Blaine denies the story printed by the New York Sun to the effect that he engaged William Muldoon, the wrestler, for instructions in physical culture.

SEEKING NEW HOMES.

KINGFISHER, O. T., April 11.—To-day there was an almost unbroken line of encampments along the borders of the Cheyenne and Arapahoe reservations, and every moment the ranks of boomers receive recruits. Most of the boomers are a fine class of immigrants, although a number of Texas negroes, who are poorly equipped, are waiting on the south side.

In spite of the vigilance of the soldiers some people have slipped into the country, and when the opening comes it is probable that every place offering concealment will be occupied by Sooners.

The facilities of towns along the border are taxed to their utmost to accommodate the rush.

Town sites in six new counties are surveyed and artistically named.

It is stated that there is no doubt but town sites will be opened the same day as the land.

Watertown, S. D.—The announcement of the opening of the Sisseton reservation on the 15th was received with great enthusiasm. A line has already been formed in front of the land office, and the borders of the reservation are scenes of great activity.

CRIMINAL LIBEL.

I. Kinspel Brings Suit Against John Bassin.

I. Kinspel has had John Bassin arrested for criminal libel.

Kinspel in his complaint alleges that on April 5, 1892, Bassin did wilfully, feloniously and maliciously intend to expose him to public hatred, contempt and ridicule by causing and procuring to be written and published in THE REPUBLICAN of said Kinspel a certain scandalous and defamatory article.

This article, Kinspel alleges, refers to himself and stated that he, Kinspel, his wife and three children and his brother and the latter's wife occupied a small room in an alley between H and I streets; that the air was impure in consequence of the lack of ventilation and, that in consequence thereof one of the children of Kinspel died.

Kinspel denies that his brother and the latter's wife resided with him and his family in said room, denies that the air was impure and that the child came to its death from the alleged impure air. Complainant also denies that he and his family are Russian Jews.

Bassin's bond was fixed at $500, which he furnished.

SANGER REPUBLICANS.

The First Political Club in That Town Organized Last Night.

G. W. Jones and Mark Walser, president and vice president of the Central Republican club, visited Sanger last evening and organized a Republican club. It was the first political club ever organized in that place. There was a large attendance and much enthusiasm was manifested.

Forty members signed the roll and the following were elected as officers:

President, W. M. Bair; first vice president, Joseph Burns; second vice president, W. F. Hanke; secretary, O. L. Ingels; treasury, A. C. Joy; sergeant at arms, Al Woodward.

Committee on solicitatation—W. F. Hanke, H. P. Holmes, Al Woodward, Harve Garrison, R. O. Thoms, D. E. Segger.

Committee on by-laws—Lee McLaughlan, R. L. Bane, Dr. Williams.

The club will meet again next Monday.

The supervisors have rejected all the bids for the construction of the proposed jail at Huron, the plans and specifications submitted being very imperfect. New bids will be advertised.

THE TRIANGLE WINS

It May Run the Fire Department.

JUDGE HARRIS SO DECIDES

Judge M. K. Harris yesterday rendered the following decision in the injunction suit of E. R. Higgins vs. S. H. Cole, William Fahey and B. T. Alford et al:

This is an action on the part of plaintiff, claiming to be the chief of the Fresno Volunteer Fire department, to restrain the trustees of said city and their agents from taking possession of certain engines and other fire apparatus belonging to said city. A temporary injunction was issued by the court, and this is a motion to have the same dissolved.

Fresno city is a municipal corporation of the fifth class, having been incorporated in the year 1885, under the provisions of an act of the legislature entitled, "An Act to Provide for the Organization, Incorporation and Government of Municipal Corporations," approved February 13, 1883. On the 2d day of February, 1891, the city council passed ordinance No. 224, "to regulate the fire department," etc. Sections 1 and 2 of this ordinance read as follows:

"Section 1—The fire department of this city shall consist of volunteer companies organized into engine, hose and hook and ladder companies, who shall elect their own officers."

"Section 2—The chief of the fire department and his assistants shall be elected annually by the members of the department, with the approval of the board of trustees, and shall give such bond as the board of trustees may require."

On the 18th of January, 1892, said city passed ordinance No. 248, amending these two sections so as to make them read as follows:

"Section 1—The fire department of this city shall consist of volunteer companies of firemen, organized into engine, hose and hook and ladder companies, who shall elect their own officers, to-wit—the foreman, who is the presiding officer, a secretary and a treasurer."

"Section 2—The chief of the fire department and his assistants shall be appointed annually by the board of trustees, to hold office each for one year or until his or their successors are appointed and qualified, and the chief of the fire department shall give a bond," etc. These amendments took effect immediately.

Prior to the adoption of these amendments plaintiff was elected chief by the members of the fire department and was acting as such on December 21, 1891. On this date the trustees received notice from the fire department that plaintiff had been elected chief for the ensuing year. It being suggested that the trustees must make the appointment themselves in order to make it legal, the matter was continued from time to time until February 1, 1892, when plaintiff was duly elected chief by the trustees. In the meantime, as seen above, the amendments to the ordinance No. 224 had been passed and gone into effect. Thereafter, on the 7th of March, 1892, the board of trustees passed a resolution declaring the office of chief of the fire department vacant, and appointed defendant Walton to fill the vacancy. They also directed defendant Morgan, the city marshal, to take and deliver possession of said property to said Walton. The foregoing is a brief statement of the uncontroverted facts necessary to be noticed at this time.

Plaintiff makes two contentions:

First—That he derives his powers and authority as chief from the members of the fire department and not from the trustees, and thus is entitled to the possession of the fire apparatus of the city outside and independent of any authority conferred by the trustees, who represent the city.

Second—That if he derives his authority and powers from the trustees as the representative of the city, their action in removing him before the expiration of his term of office of one year, for which he had been elected by them, was without law, null and void.

I will consider these propositions in their order:

First—The property in question belongs to the city of Fresno, as is admitted, and it is a fundamental principle of law that the owner of property is entitled to its possession. Therefore, unless there is some positive statute making an exception of this kind of property when owned by municipalities of the class to which Fresno city belongs, the first contention cannot be sustained. In the act of 1883, under which Fresno was organized, and to which we must look to ascertain the nature of its organization and the extent of its powers, there is no mention of a volunteer department, and the only provision made on the subject is section 764, subdivision 6, which is as follows: "The board of trustees of such city shall have power: 6—To provide fire engines and all other necessary or proper apparatus for the prevention and extinguishment of fires."

Of the general laws relating to this subject, section 3335 of the Political Code provides: "Fire companies in incorporated cities and towns are formed and organized under special laws, or under authority conferred upon the city or town government. Those in unincorporated towns or villages are organized, by filing with the recorder of the county a certificate setting forth the date of the organization, name, officers," etc. The act of 1881 provides how an unincorporated town or village of this state may equip and maintain a fire department.

Political Code, section 3336: "Every such fire company must choose or elect a foreman, who is the presiding officer, and a secretary and treasurer."

Political Code, section 3342, prescribes the duties of the chief of the fire department, which are quite similar to those prescribed in ordinance No. 224 of Fresno city. Such fire departments are governed by three commissioners, elected by the people and supported by taxes levied upon the town or village.

The act of 1883 provides that cities of the fourth class may "establish and maintain a paid fire department for such city; provided that nothing in this chapter shall be construed to authorize the said city council to disband or discontinue the fire department of any city having, at the time of its organization under this act, a volunteer fire department organized and existing, or to create * * * a paid fire department without submitting the proposition to the voters of the city."

I have referred to these statutes because it has been thought by counsel for plaintiff that from them was deducible an argument in favor of the first proposition. How such a conclusion can be reached I am unable to conjecture, for it is seen that the law authorizes volunteer fire departments only in unincorporated towns and villages and that where such a department exists at the time of the incorporation of a city of the fourth class it shall not be disbanded by the city authorities except by vote of the people. But even in unincorporated towns where volunteer fire departments are equipped and maintained by taxation, as provided by law, such departments have no authority to elect a chief. The statute specially provides what officers they may elect, to-wit: Foreman, secretary and treasurer; so whether in an incorporated city or an unincorporated town or village, there is no law directly or indirectly authorizing the election of a chief by a volunteer fire department. But even if there was such a law, placing the property of a city or town in the possession or under the control of a person not an agent or officer of the city or town, and thus not responsible to the city or town for the proper performance of his duties in relation to said property, it would, in my judgment, be unconstitutional and of no effect.

In this country, government, whether national, state or municipal is by the people, and that all powers of government are derived from the people is declared in, perhaps, the constitution of every state in the Union. So far as my reading and observations go, there is and can be, under our government, no public officer, who is not elected by the people or appointed by officers so elected and whom the people have clothed with this appointing power. To hold otherwise, it seems to me, would be a palpable perversion of the great fundamental principle upon which our whole political fabric is based, that is, that governments derive 'their just powers from the consent of the governed.' The bare statement of the proposition refutes it. The chief is appointed by the city, gives a bond to the city for the faithful performance of his duties, is paid by the city, and is, beyond question, an officer of the city, and subject to its control.

Second—The second question depends upon the validity of ordinance No. 248 amendatory of ordinance No. 224. This amending ordinance provides that the chief shall hold office for a term of one year, and if this ordinance is valid the act of the board of trustees removing him without trial or hearing was void. The validity of both these ordinances is to be determined by the nature and extent of the powers conferred upon the board of trustees, legislative department of said city, by the act of 1883, under which the city was incorporated and by such general laws as relate to the subject. Among these powers conferred is 'to provide fire engines and all other necessary or proper apparatus for the prevention of fires,' * * * 'to appoint and remove such policemen and other subordinate officers as they may deem proper and affix their duties and compensation,' and 'to make and enforce within the limits of such city all other local, police, sanitary, and other regulations as do not conflict with general laws.'

Under this grant of power the ordinances in question were passed. Defendants attack ordinance No. 224 on the ground that by it the trustees delegate to the members of the fire department to elect a chief, whereas the legislature only authorized the trustees to elect, and that being a delegation of a delegated power is, under a well known rule of law, void. While I think this point well taken, it is not necessary to dwell upon it at length, as this part of ordinance No. 224 has been superseded by ordinance No. 248. The legality of that part of ordinance No. 248 which fixes the term of office of the chief is challenged by the defendants on the ground that the trustees have no authority of law to fix such term, and the objection is good. It will be seen from the law above quoted that power is conferred on the trustees "to appoint and remove" such officers, and to "fix their duties and compensation," not to fix their term of office. No limitation is placed upon the power to remove, and, as has been argued, the power to remove does not mean to appoint a successor when the term expires, nor to abolish the office, and, therefore, the exercise of the power to remove rests in the discretion of the trustees.

Furthermore, Sec. 16, art XX. of the constitution provides that when the term of any officer is not fixed by the constitution the term may be declared by law, and when not declared by law the officer shall hold during the pleasure of the appointing power, and the term of chief not being fixed by the constitution, an act of the legislature conferring such power on the trustees would be unconstitutional and void. These views are fully sustained by decisions of our supreme court:

People vs. Hill, 7 Cal., 102.
Smith vs. Brown, 59 Cal., 672.
People vs. Perry, 79 Cal., 105.

But counsel for plaintiff contend that the trustees themselves have no right to appoint a chief. But under the broad provisions above set forth I think they have the power, and think it a fair deduction that if they have the power and the law makes it their duty to provide fire engines and other necessary apparatus to prevent and extinguish fires, they have the power and it is their duty to make those means effective to the ends for which they were provided. When a power is conferred, it is a presumption of law, that all things not expressed by the instrument or law creating the power, which are necessary to the proper execution, are implied. The fact that fire apparatus and engines would be useless unless manned, coupled with the above quoted provisions of law, clearly imports that the legislature intended to give the power to the trustees, and whether the person put in charge is called chief or by some other name is of no consequence.

Section 1312.—No principle of the law of injunctions * * * is more definitely fixed or more clearly established than that courts of equity will not interfere by injunction to determine questions concerning the appointment of public officers or their title to office, etc.

Section 1318.—In conformity with the general doctrine above stated, it is held that one who has been duly appointed and commissioned to fill a vacancy in a public office will not be restrained from entering upon the discharge of his duties upon the application of another claimant to the office. * * * Nor will a court of equity entertain a bill by a former incumbent of a public office, claiming to be re-elected, to enjoin his opponent * * * from qualifying and entering upon the discharge of his duties. * * * And where the authorities of a city have removed from his office a superintendent of streets, he cannot maintain a bill to enjoin them from * * * interfering with plaintiff in the discharge of his duties.

Therefore the writ of injunction was improperly issued, and as the defendants, at the time of the service of the writ, were in possession of the property, it is ordered that the injunction be dissolved and defendants be placed in possession of said property. M. K. HARRIS, Judge.

PECOS VALLEY.

Items Clipped From the Eddy Citizen, April 2, 1892.

W. L. Wester late of Rogue River Valley, Oregon, has located in the Pecos Valley.

Eddy has increased so fast that street lamps have become a necessity.

C. W. Cowden and family are expected from Midland, Tex., their former home about the 6th of this month.

There are still large numbers of ducks on our reservoirs and streams. Like the Californians who visit us, the ducks claim a better country as a home, but yet seem loath to leave.

C. V. Smith, stone mason and plasterer, and M. M. Kabrich, brother of Forrest Kabrich reached here from Syracuse, Ind, Friday of last week, and will remain permanently.

The band now numbers eight members, and are practicing dilligently at Fred Piontkowsky's house. With Mr. Polntkowsky as leader, this organization should receive the undivided support of all Eddyites.

It is reported that Scott and Gilmore of Roswell will put in a plant here the first of this month for bottling aerated beverages. The Campbell building on Main street is the proposed location.

G. A. Friedenbloom of El Paso, arrived Wednesday of last week, and will remain permanently.

Harry A. Bennett of San Angelo, Tex., arrived here last Saturday and after looking over the town decided to stay.

A. L. Carroll, who has been here for some time, and who holds the position of law clerk in the first auditor's office, treasury department, Washington, D.C., is much pleased with our valley, and contemplates settling here.

C. C. Hauck of Leadville, Col., came up on Thursday's train, and will prospect in the mining districts by which we are surrounded. Mr. Hauck represents several capitalists, who are anxious to obtain a foothold in New Mexico mines.

Clark L. McCartney has opened a fruit and confectionery store in the old postoffice building, corner Greene and Canon streets. He also has charge of the city scales.

Charles Taylor came from Brownwood, Tex, some three weeks ago, being recommended to this climate for his health by Drs. Meyer & Taylor of that place. After visiting Hope he returned here and has decided to make Eddy his future home. Mr. Taylor has written to his family and xpects them here shortly.

Will Hall Poore of the Irrigation Age, left for home on Tuesday. Mr. Poore is thoroughly acquainted with all the irrigating districts in the west, and it is not remarkable that before leaving he purchased through Mermod & Allen, a 40-acre tract, southeast of town, which he will commence to improve at once.

L. J. Dunning of Ligonier, Ind., son of J. L. Dunning, proprietor of the Ligonier Banner, reached here March 25, with the intention of making this his future home, and his family is expected here in a short time.

Boston Witt came in Sunday from St. Joe, Mo., with two carloads of the best mules ever brought to Eddy. Charles W. Greene Jr. had first and third choice for best spans. Boston took second and fourth choice for Eugene Courtney, the contractor. One carload in all was sold to Mr. Greene for use at his Feliz farm and the rest distributed among various purchasers. St. Joe is probably the best mule market in this country. The Pecos Valley demands the best of everything.

Royal Baking Powder is reported by the U. S. Government, after official tests, highest of all in leavening power. It is the best and most economical; a pure cr[illegible]m of tar[illegible] [illegible]ng Powder.

tree bearing bloom and fruit. In response he said: "The thoughts that California friends are eating green peas and new potatoes, out on the veranda where sweet odors of clover and roses mingle, at this season of the year, is enough to make anyone envious who has to wait until Decoration Day for the first faint squeak from the frog pond." It is pretty long waiting for luxuries that are enjoyed in California the year round, and the tediousness of it cannot be realized by those who have not experienced the vigor and gloom of a winter that lasts half the year.

The horticultural editor of the Tulare Register has discovered a state of facts that is calculated to make an unlimited market for certain California products. It announces that the light fingered artist, Paderewski, has tinted his hair by a continued diet of lemons. This is a valuable hint to would-be blondes. Lemon eating is better than direct applications of bleaches, because whenever dark hair is popular the tint may be changed by eating prunes.

Bare knuckles, guns, canes, ink bottles, etc., may be well enough in their way as weapons for legal battles, but the latitude of fighting lawyers should be circumscribed to some extent. Spitting in the face and butting below the belt should be prohibited in the sacred precincts of the superior court.

Serpentine adornment, so popular in the fashionable world a few months ago, has made its appearance in the bucolic districts of Fresno. The fashionable young men of the alfalfa ranches are now wearing four-in-hand ties made of rattlesnake skins with the rattles for a scarf pin.

Lawyer Grady has a great head. It can be used with equal facility in scheming for a client and in butting the breath out of a rival attorney.

Oakland is fishing for the Risdon iron works with a subsidy bait. It is a big fish and the bait should be cut accordingly.

Fresno courts could be decidedly improved by the adoption of the Marquis of Queensberry rules.

THREE BIG B'S

Berry, Butler and Blood in Court Yesterday.

COLDWELL AND GRADY FIGHT

The otherwise dull proceedings in the suit of Berry against Butler were enlivened yesterday by a 1-round butting and spitting contest, in which the spitter was butted and the butter was spitted.

The parties were N. C. Coldwell of counsel for Butler and W. D. Grady of Berry's counsel. Mr. Grady, although not an Irishman, inherited his name from the Green Isle, as well as considerable of its pugnacious spirit.

The provocation to the fracas occurred while Mr. Coldwell was cross-examining Mr. Berry. The lawyer held in his hand the transcript of Mr. Berry's testimony given on the previous trial and he asked Mr. Berry whether he had not stated so and so on the former trial.

"He didn't testify that way," said Mr. Grady. "I say his testimony now is true."

"It is not true," said Coldwell.

"It is true," retorted Grady, "and what are you going to do about it?"

Judge Harris interposed at this juncture as he saw that both attorneys were getting excited and he desired to avoid another Fresno court room incident.

"The counsel is mistaken," said Mr. Grady. "Any decent lawyer would have consulted the reporter's notes before making a statement of that kind."

Coldwell replied, "O you are noted for decency in this community."

"I certainly stand as high in this community for decency as you do since your celebrated love letters to a crazy woman," was Grady's rejoinder. He added that Coldwell would not dispute his word outside of the court room.

Judge Harris called both men to order and fined them $25 each for contempt of court.

After the court adjourned for the noon recess Grady walked outside the railing which separates the lawyers from their victims, the ignoble vulgus. Coldwell followed and standing very close to Grady asked, "Are you personally responsible for what you said to me?"

Grady immediately butted Coldwell in the face with his head, and placing both hands on the back of Coldwell's neck butted him again. Then he drew back and struck Coldwell in the face, right and left.

Sheriff Hensley and other bystanders caught hold of the belligerents and separated them. Coldwell's eye was blackened, and about two inches below the eye was a cut about an inch long from which the blood flowed profusely. This wound was made by a magnificent and costly paste ring which Grady wore on the little finger of his right hand. Mr. Coldwell severely bruised and crippled the little finger of his right hand by striking it against Mr. Grady's hard head.

SEARCHED FOR WEAPONS.

When the court convened after recess the court room was packed with a crowd of curious people, who had assembled to witness the second round, but Judge Harris ordered the room cleared of all but the lawyers. Then he read them a fatherly lecture on good behavior and requested the sheriff to search all the attorneys for concealed weapons, but none were found, the "tip" having been given to the parties interested during the recess.

It was reported that Lawyer McEnerney had a freshly sharpened scythe blade concealed in his right boot leg, but the report was not generally believed. In fact, Mr. McEnerney denied it.

THE ARGUMENT.

Mr. Grady began the argument for the plaintiff after preparing himself with a glass of water and a lemon. He said that counsel were excusable in a large degree for being over zealous in behalf of their clients. The facts of the case are very simple. The issues are few and not at all complicated. They are susceptible of being understood and solved by an ordinarily intelligent mind. It is not the province of a jury to hunt for and lay stress upon small technical discrepancies of evidence. There are but two questions of any importance in the case to be decided, and when these questions are solved the other minor issues involved may be readily determined.

The first issue is did Mr. Berry secure this option or induce MacDonough to give the option to Berry? The next question is if MacDonough was induced to give the opinion, was it agreed between Berry and Butler that they should share in the profits of the sale. There can be no room for argument on the proposition that MacDonough gave the option to Berry. It is a virtually admitted fact.

The first proposition is: Was the option granted at the solicitation of Berry? Long prior to the giving of this option Berry and MacDonough were old friends, and Butler was an entire stranger to him. Mr. Berry and MacDonough had thousands and thousands of dollars worth of transactions between them and MacDonough had implicit confidence in Berry. Then the question is: Who induced MacDonough to give this option? Doesn't it stand to reason that Berry would be the only one as between Berry and Butler who could induce MacDonough to give this option. It is in evidence that Berry drove to the Butler vineyard with MacDonough and there introduced MacDonough to Butler. They found Butler flooding his land, and MacDonough remonstrated saying that the water would drown his alfalfa. Both Berry and Butler said that the land was too heavy for alfalfa, and Butler offered to take the land off MacDonough's hands so long as MacDonough was dissatisfied with his purchase.

THE NEGOTIATION.

MacDonough asked Butler what he thought of the place as a hog ranch, and Butler said that it would be necessary to have an alfalfa ranch in order to raise hogs profitably. Butler testified that he then and there offered to lease the land for five years and that Mac said that he would think about the matter. Butler in his evidence never claimed that he ever offered to lease the land from MacDonough provided that MacDonough would give him an option at the end of five years. All that Butler claims is that he offered to take the land from MacDonough if MacDonough would give him five years to pay for it. MacDonough went away in his buggy and Butler never laid his eyes upon MacDonough again for two or three years according to his own testimony.

The next day Berry went to Butler's place and spoke to Butler about a lease. Berry says there was nothing said between them about an option but about a lease, and Butler said that he would take the place if he had five years in which to pay it. The option was not procured in that first conversation.

The fact that Mac said that he would consider Butler's proposition did not bind any bargain between them. It is not alleged that he even said that he would let Butler know of the result of his deliberations. Therefore nothing was agreed [illegible] at that time as to the o

A TIGHT LEASE.

After that, Berry told MacDonough that the lease was a tight one and testified that MacDonough agreed to give Berry the option. Berry had the confidence of Mac and was in a position to persuade and induce Mac to give the option. MacDonough testified that he agreed to give Berry the option and that Berry was the first man who had spoken to him about it.

There is no conflict between MacDonough's deposition and his testimony on that point.

Mr. Grady called attention to the character of Charles S. Moses, who had through the solicitation of such men as Vanderlip and Berry invested a large amount of capital in 25,000 acres of land and thus assisted in materially building up this county. Such a man's testimony should be believed. He was a responsible man, and his testimony was corroborated by that of Berry, Vanderlip and others. Moses testified to the fact that Berry had secured the option, and that when Vanderlip brought him here to buy the property there was a large profit in the transaction for the sellers.

VANDERLIP'S ERRAND.

Vanderlip was buying wool and sheep, and Moses being a wool buyer and being well acquainted with Vanderlip, would be naturally supposed to have confidence in whatever statements Vanderlip might make regarding the advisability of buying the property. It was for this reason that Butler and Berry jointly agreed to pay Vanderlip for bringing Moses here and recommending the property as a good buy. Moses offered Butler $90 an acre for the north half, but Butler said that he could not entertain the proposition for the north half, while he might receive a similar proposition for the whole tract, but he had to see Berry first because Berry had an interest in the sale. Butler testified that what he had said was that Berry had a commission interest in the property. If Berry had merely a commission interest why should Butler, the principal, decline to accept an offer where he had only a fixed amount to pay the agent? He could have accepted the offer then and there, because as the agent had a fixed commission it would make no difference to the principal. Moses testified, however, that Butler told him that Berry had assisted in procuring the option and that therefore Berry had an interest in the land. A corroboration of this point is the fact that Moses went to Berry and said, "You're a — nice fellow to steer me against your own land," and went away angry.

Moses swears that Vanderlip induced him to go and see the property. Moses went there and that was in pursuance of the conversation that had been previously had between Vanderlip and Berry and Butler in the Grand Central hotel.

A FORECAST.

With reference to the testimony given by Jacobs, Mr. Grady said that he expected that Mr. Terry would foam at the mouth and denounce Jacobs as "a miserable little Jew." Jacobs had loaned Butler $50,000, of which $20,000 was unsecured and he had gone to Butler to see about getting some security for his money. Butler at that time was evidently involved, and he had to get the money from Newhall on the option to pay this debt. He asked Butler to transfer the option to him and Butler told him that he could not do so because Berry had an interest in the option. Jacobs dined and wined and slept with Butler, so that he could not have been a low fellow if Butler took him into his house and treated him with the hospitality that is characteristic of Butler.

Butler himself swore that Berry had promised to use his best endeavors to secure the option.

None of the testimony was contradicted by any one but the defendant himself.

Berry stated that he had a claim in the interest of the option when it was sold.

Mr. Grady read from the first complaint the allegation that Berry had agreed with Butler to use his best endeavors to secure the option. Butler in his answer admitted that before the case was reduced to writing it was agreed between him and Berry that Berry should use his best endeavors to secure from MacDonough the right to purchase the land at a reasonable price.

WHAT WAS IT?

It would be a strange thing if the defense should ask the jury to say that Messrs. Vanderlip, Jacobs, Berry and the other witnesses had committed perjury, when Butler by his answer to the first complaint showed that he was in the same boat. At that time Butler believed that that admission would not hurt his case because the agreement between him and Berry was not in writing. When the court decided that the verbal agreement was just as good, Butler switched off on another track and made an amended answer. A contract to pay a commission for the sale of lands must be in writing, whereas an option agreement which is a partnership is not required to be in writing. In the amended answer Butler denied that before the case was rendered in writing it was agreed between Butler and Berry that Berry should secure the option.

Mr. Grady said that he did not wish to charge that Mr. Butler would commit perjury for $40,000, but the facts were there in his two answers. Butler himself admitted on the stand that his first answer to which he swore was not correct.

WHAT BERRY EARNED.

Even if Butler's statement was true that it was a commission interest, the fact that Berry had done all these things toward negotiating the sale of the land showed that he was entitled to a commission when Butler made a profit of more than $49,000. If such was the case why did he refuse to pay Berry a dollar? Grady asked the jury if that was fair dealing; if Butler was the immaculate being, whose testimony should be allowed to down the evidence of five disinterested witnesses. No man under the evidence could say that Berry earned nothing and was entitled to nothing. No one could say that Butler had dealt right with Berry in this matter.

FOR THE DEFENDANT.

Reel B. Terry followed with the argument for the defendant. He said that every witness placed on the stand by the plaintiff had testified diametrically to the opposite of what his testimony was on the first trial of the case. He called attention to the fact that Berry had not a scratch of the pen from Butler to show that he owned a half interest in the profits of the sale of the property. Parole evidence is the most dangerous that can be admitted into a court in evidence. Slight changes and transpositions in language may totally alter the legal meaning of parole declarations. Mr. Terry denied Mr. Grady's statement that he (Terry) would stigmatize Mr. Jacobs as a Jew. There was nothing presented to the vision of the jury to show that Jacobs was a Jew and the only thing about Jacobs that would warrant that inference was the fact that Jacobs had failed and agreed to pay 40 cents on the dollar in two, three and four years' time.

AN ALTERNATIVE.

When Jacob asked Butler for the option in order to secure the indebtedness from Butler to him, if such were the fact he would have asked Butler to give him the option anyway because it was in his name and Berry could look out for himself. Butler was in the clutches of Jacobs. This $50,000 was loaned to Butler on 1 per cent per month compounded every three months. Under such circumstances Mr. Grady's statement that Butler was under obligations to Jacobs or owed him any gratitude was not true. Jacobs seeing bankruptcy staring him in the face must have volunteered, through malicious motives, to be a witness in the case because Berry could not know that Jacobs was interested in Butler's affairs.

The truth of Vanderlip's testimony was next attacked, and his statement that he was to receive $2000 for bringing Moses here to look at the property was denounced as incredible. If he had testified that he was to receive the money if Moses purchased the property the jury would be entitled to believe it. After the first trial Vanderlip saw the absurdity of his statement and on this trial swore that he was to receive the $2000 if he brought Moses here and recommended him to buy the property, and Berry also changed his mind and corroborated this.

MOSES DENOUNCED.

Mr. Terry denounced Moses as a stool pigeon who ran errands for Berry. The counsel said that he would rather take an honest poor man by the hand, believing that he would receive an honest grip in return, than to trust in those scoundrels who amassed their wealth in San Francisco in the stock board by robbing people. He did not believe that because a man owned 30,000 acres of land he should be believed any more than a poor man who did not own a dollar.

The counsel said that he believed MacDonough was a weak man under the doctor's care, when in reality he should be under the care of a warden. MacDonough is commodore of a yacht and is very friendly with Berry and goes yachting with him. Berry and his attorneys camped upon MacDonough's trail for weeks at a time and called upon him twice a day. They traveled with him, ate with him, drank with him and perhaps slept with him. Many of the things that came into MacDonough's recollection did so because they were jabbed into it.

The facts of the case show conclusively that Butler had no negotiations with MacDonough in which the option did not figure.

Mr. Coldwell will begin his argument this morning.

COLORED REPUBLICANS.

The African-American Mutual Club Organized Last Night.

The majority of the colored residents of this city assembled in Nichol's hall last evening for the purpose of forming a Republican club.

Rev. Mr. Bynum was chosen temporary chairman and Samuel Rountree secretary.

Edward Jones, Samuel Walton and Stephen Church were appointed a committee on permanent organization and reported the following named to act as the permanent officers of the club: Samuel Walton, president; Samuel Rountree, secretary; John Bost, treasurer; P. B. Baskin, J. O. Williams, S. Church and Charles Wilson, vice presidents.

E. Jones, S. Rountree and C. Brown were appointed a committee on by laws and constitution to report at the next meeting of the club.

It was decided to call the club the African-American Mutual Republican club.

Thirty members signed the roll.

A. F. Holland, president of the Colored Independent(?) club, made a half hearted address in which he urged the members of the new organization to leave the party to which they, the colored race, owed their emancipation and join hands with the enemy of protection to American industry.

Rev. Bynum made a stirring appeal to the colored race urging them to be true to their manhood and the party that had done so much to ameliorate their condition. He spoke eloquently of the necessity of remaining true to the party which claimed Abraham Lincoln as one of its standard bearers and asked his hearers to do their utmost to help that party to success.

Several other speakers addressed the meeting after which an adjournment was taken until next Monday evening.
